Chocolate Pie Presents Problem For Entrants in Mystery Contest

Freshly made chocolate cream pie became a vital part of the mystery event as competition for MSC's Walk Out Day began Tuesday.

With the tolling of the campus bell at 8:15 a. m. by John Price, Union Board president, the day of freedom from classes was underway. Following the march from studies, Cis Hill and Ken Day took first place in the race to determine which girl could feed her guy a whole pie in the least amount of time. Kay Reaves and Gary Dickerson came in second. Miss Hill and Cheri Jordan were Union Board Committee members in charge of the contest.

After the pie eating event, the Phi Mu fraternity tug-of-war team beat the girls of the Alpha Sigma Alpha, Delta Zeta, and Sigma Sigma Sigma teams. Individual team winners were Connie Seuell, Linda Gill, Karen Hunt, Melody Price, Joyce Van Beeber, Rose Marie Nicholas, Sheila Schertz, Jean Evans, Cheryl Wold, Leslie Linville, Barb McDonald, and Ellen Hamilton. Vicki Dixon and Bob Burrell, Union Council members, arranged the event.

As the next games began, the Battle of the Bands also started, with The Society coming out on top. The Novel Organization for Inventive Sound Emission (NOISE), The Society, the Ides of Time, and Yesterday's Tomorrow competed by playing 15 to 20 minutes programs.

The bands were judged by Joe Boessen, Mike Wilson, Rosie Brookhauser, Dave Ross, and Roger Saccaro. Terry Stitt, Arlene Horner, Helen Martin, and Linda Quinn were Committee Two members who made arrangements for the competition.

Simultaneous with the Battle was the log rolling contest at the north end of the pond. Mark Hargens was victor over 15 opponents. Marv Lovell and Jeff Andrews, committee members, officiated at the event.

Meanwhile, at the opposite end of the pond, Linda Schoen and Ronda Ridnour captured first place in the canoe races with a time of :49. Pam Beach and Lorri Bird placed second.

Joyce Wake, Jim Gay, and Dennis Watsabaugh were race officials.

Rod Cruz, Watsabaugh, Doug Steelman, and John Danielson, members of Union Board, were in charge of the canoe events. The other water contest, canoe jousting, ran overtime. Winners were Haskal and Nufus with second place winners, Jones and Kitterman.

The morning events reached a climax with two greased pig contests. Mike Dalton, first, and Mike Brennell, second, won the initial contest with Leslie Linville, first, and Susie Hunt, second, capturing honors in the second contest. Bob Burrell, Ken Bassett, and Steve Conner were the Board members in charge of arrangements.

As the competition ended, Mr. Glen Vogt and the cafeteria staff served an outdoor barbecue. Following the meal, the Brothers Four presented a two-hour concert despite heat and microphone difficulties.

The day ended with a dance by The Music Projection. Trophies for first place winners were distributed at intermission. Ellen Hamilton and Joyce Wake, committee members, were responsible for the trophies and ribbons which were given to all first and second place winners.

Walk Out Day was organized by Union Board Committee Two. Hila Rankin and Mary Jo Jansen are co-chairmen of the Special Affairs Committee. Sharon Baier, Gayle Bradfield, and Martha Waits arranged the publicity.

Faculty members who assisted the Union Board were Mr. Vogt, Mr. Robert Seipel, Mr. Bruce Wake, Miss Karen Licklider, Mr. Robert Dickey, and Mrs. T. H. Eckert. The Missourian staff helped issue a special edition, with John Herleman in charge of editing and distributing the paper. Other Union Board members assisting were John Price, Julie Seipel, Linda Snell, Mary Asbell, Karen Halbert, Mike Miller, and Stan Wright. Rollie Stadlman and KDLX members also helped.

GDI to Auction Faculty Members

Would you like to buy your favorite teacher's time to perform an arduous task for you?

The GDI Slave Auction at 4 p. m. Thursday gives an opportunity for students to bid for faculty members' labor. The "slaves" will perform such important duties as shine shoes, guard the Student Union, wait on tables in the Den, and tutor students.

A practicing auctioneer will hire out approximately 15-20 faculty members to the highest bidders at the stand near the college pond.

The auction is a public event.

Students Select 'Ugly' Jim Redd

Climaxing last week's Ugly Man activities and campaign, sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, Coach Jim Redd was selected as MSC's Ugliest Man on campus Friday at the annual UMOG Carnival.

Redd, sponsored by Phi Mu, garnered the most number of "popularity" points in the four-day campaign. Taking second place was Rollie Stadlman, nominated by Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Adorning the midway of the carnival were various booths sponsored by the competing groups. Booths varied from a cake walk to a dunking tank. Approximately 1,500 MSC students rambled from booth to booth and in and out of "Jail" during the evening.

Also the results of the other contests and competition for the UMOG contest were announced. Winners of the "Beauty and Beast Contest" were Phi Mu, first place, and Alpha Sigma Alpha, second place. In the variety show competition in the women's division, Delta Zeta garnered first place followed by a three-way tie for second place between Phi Mu, Gamma Sigma Sigma, and Sigma Sigma Sigma. Winners in the men's division of the show include: TKE, first place, and GDI, second place.

Winner of the award for the best overall participation, as judged by the other participating organizations, was Phi Mu. Winners of the Best Booth awards, determined by the amount of money earned, were Gamma Sigma Sigma, first place, and the Men's Dormitory Council, second place.

The purpose of the event was to raise money for the student loan fund. Bill Watson served as chairman of the APO Ugly Man Contest committee.

Phi Mu nominee, Coach Jim Redd, is cited at the Ugly Man Carnival for helping garner the most support for the MSC scholarship fund.

Union Board Plans Derby, Song Fest

Two new campus events, a powderpuff soapbox derby and a folk night, are scheduled for 1 p. m. and 8 p. m. to midnight, respectively, Saturday, under the sponsorship of the Union Board.

Alpha Psi Cast Presents Thurber Humor

Don Folkman leads other cast members in "The Male Animal" in a rousing Homecoming cheer. The other rooters are front

By Marjorie Hitchcock

The actives and pledges of Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatics fraternity, who have roles in James Thurber's "The Male Animal" have demonstrated the most outstanding acting performance of this season at MSC.

The cast has effectively captured Thurber's humor to make the play enjoyable for any theater-goer who likes Thurber, humor, and a good play. Not even the most minor character lets the audience down from the time the curtain rises until the final curtain call.

Richard Heinz is a successful hit as Tommy Turner, husband, professor, and philosopher. His performance in Act II, Scene II is superb when he philosophizes about men, women, wives, and divorces, saying, "All animals are the same — including the male animal, too."

John Hoffman, as the second male lead, makes the character, Joe Ferguson, former football star at Midwestern University, come to life on the stage. His facial expressions are unmatchable. Hoffman portrays well the stereotyped athlete who can think only of football, even when his friend is on the verge of divorce and release from the university faculty.

Marcia Hensleigh, playing the female lead, executes one of her best college acting performances. In her role as Eileen Turner, Tommy's wife, she demonstrates well the feelings of a wife who is deeply in love with her husband, but is disturbed by his actions and thoughts.

The minor characters in the play are also well presented. Sue Calbreath, as the maid Cleota, displays superior acting ability and adds contrast to the other characters.

Sigmund Bonebreak is remarkable as Michael Barnes, student editor of the literary magazine, who publishes an editorial calling the dean of the university a fascist.

Also to be commended are Jerry Eisenhour, who portrays Dean Frederick Damon; Harold Webb, who is cast as a member of the board of trustees, and Donald Jackson, who has the role of Wally Myers, a star football player.

Praise is due also to Dr. Ralph Fulson, production director, and Mr. Richard Weaver and Mr. Robert West, technical directors.

The scenery is realistic, however, some of the costumes are dated more for the middle 1960's than for 1939, the period for the play.

The curtain will rise at 8 p. m. tonight and tomorrow night for the final performances of Thurber's delightful and entertaining play, "The Male Animal."

'World of Dickens' Is Featured By Members of Dickens Group

A glimpse into the world of the famous English novelist Charles Dickens was presented Friday to Miss Violette Hunter's English 164 class by Mrs. Marshall E. Ford, Misses Mattie M. and Mary Dykes, members of the Charles Dickens Fellowship.

Mrs. Ford, the only remaining member of the original Maryville Fellowship, spent four months abroad in 1965. While in London she was asked to attend the Lord Mayor's Ball. She served as the United States' delegate to the international meeting of the Dickens' Fellowship in Eastbourne, England. The high point of her European trip included meeting the great grandson of Charles Dickens, Cedric Charles Dickens, with whom she still corresponds.

Miss Mattie Dykes, during a visit to England, toured areas where many of Dickens' books have their settings. While there, she also visited Dickens' last home at Gadshill, England.

The Maryville branch of the International Organization of the Charles Dickens Fellowship is the only one in Missouri. Members read and discuss the major novels written by the English author. The Dickensian, the official publication of the organization is one of a limited number of scholarly journals written about literary figures.

Mrs. Ford, who was at one time chairman of the department of English and a former adviser to the staff of the Northwest Missourian, writes a weekly column for the St. Joseph News-Press. She is secretary of the Northwest Missouri Press Club and is a member of the National Federation of Press Women. The late Mr. Ford was president of the MSC board of regents at one time.

Miss Mattie Dykes is a former member of the MSC faculty and a former adviser to the Missouri staff. She is the author of "Behind the Birches," the official history of the college, and "The Library Paper: How to Prepare It." Miss Mary Dykes, who lives in Maryville, is the latest member of the Maryville Fellowship.

Methods Classes Visit Area Schools

Students enrolled in English methods for secondary schools recently visited high school English classes at Mount Alverno Academy, Maryville, and Nodaway-Holt R-VII High School, Graham.

In both schools the 31 students and their instructor, Miss Dorothy Weigand, observed new core courses being taught under innovative methods.

At the Graham school they observed sophomores, juniors, and seniors working on the same major unit, with interest and achievement groups engaged in different phases of the study. At Mount Alverno Academy, classes of social studies and English were grouped together for humanities instruction, with each student being responsible for his own depth of study and for fulfilling his own achievement contract.

Students at the latter school take their unit tests when they believe they have completed their contracts.

Students Enroll for Studies in Mexico

Four MSC students, Richard Schilling, Mary Potter, Dana Winn, and Dottie Wilson, have applied for enrollment at the Summer School of the Instituto Tecnológico de Monterrey.

Founded in September, 1943, the Instituto has since then been divided into eight different schools. The summer section, initiated in 1948, offers courses in liberal arts and Spanish as a foreign language. The primary objective of the summer school program is to provide for American teachers and students the opportunity to study Hispanic-American and Spanish language, literature, history, geography, sociology, art and folklore are offered. The program also offers American universities the opportunity to enrich their Spanish programs in a native environment.

Students may be accepted for enrollment at three levels: graduate, undergraduate, and high school. Even though there are no general pre-requisites, there are "unwritten requirements" proposing that applicants be students in "good standing." A knowledge of Spanish, even though it can be useful, is not necessary.

Private tutors are provided for students in advanced grammar and conversation courses. All Spanish courses are taught by bilingual Mexican and American professors.

MSC's students will accompany a group from Warrensburg to the Instituto. They will leave July 8 and return Aug. 17.

Miss Mary Jackson is coordinating the students' enrollment plans.

Miss Winn and Schilling plan to accompany a group of students to Mexico City for a visit and tour of the historical and cultural points of interest there.

"This experience of studying and living in Mexico for six weeks," explained Miss Jackson, "is definitely very worthwhile — plus being a lot of fun."

New 'Green and White' To Go on Sale Soon

The "Green and White," campus poetry publication, will go on sale in the campus bookstore in two or three weeks, according to Dr. Frank Grube.

Each year Dr. Grube edits poetry that has been submitted by MSC students. The poetry is printed by students in the Graphic Arts 120 class.

The new actives are Sharon Hamilton, Mill Grove; Marsha Kinder, Mound City; Mary Miller, Stanberry; Sherry Miller, Stanberry; Linda Reed, Burlington Junction, and Susan Shipley, Burlington Junction. Pat Lundquist, Thayer; Connie Morgan, Kellerton; Venita Scholl, Murray, and Cynthia Sickels, Mount Ayr, are new members from Iowa.

Sherry Miller was recognized for her outstanding leadership, friendship, and service as a pledge.

In cooperation with their sisters, they have sewed stuffed animals for two Missouri schools for the mentally retarded, helped organize a clothing drive for the Kennedy Memorial Diagnostic Center, Albany, sent boxes of home-made foods and other small home conveniences to soldiers in Vietnam, made fudge for the Riverscene Nursing Home, Kansas City, helped to conduct campus tours, and participated in the annual Ugly Man Contest fund-raising drive.

Senate Views NOSP

Two new student organizations, a pre-medical club and NOSP, National Organization for Student Patriots, were proposed for consideration at the regular Student Senate meeting, Apr. 25.

Mr. Gerald Kirk submitted the constitution for the Pre-Medical Professional Club and answered questions on grade requirements.

J. D. Morris represented NOSP and gave a brief explanation of its constitution. He explained the purpose of the organization in part is to "study the raw working of communism on this campus." He assured the Senate that there would be "no radicalism, no extremism, no name calling."

In answer to a question from Senator John Thompson about the need at MSC for such an organization, Morris referred to SDS and explained he felt there should be another side on campus — a search for truth.

Morris told President Mike Wilson he had been a member of the Minutemen in 1965-66 but that he had quit after seeing what their practices are. He disagrees with the ideas of the organization, he said.

Both constitutions, under Student Senate procedure, will go to an evaluation committee headed by Senator Victor Jenkins. They will be reconsidered at the next Senate meeting.

Union Committee Four Directs Varied Program of Activities

The Chessmen, The Fab Four, and the Red Dogs are some of the rock groups, sponsored by Union Board Committee Four, Relations, which have played for the den dances this year.

Beginning in the fall, Committee Four planned the Organizational Fair as part of freshman orientation. Although many groups participated in the exhibit, the Relations Committee organized the event as a whole.

Also, this committee, headed by Karen Halbert and Steve Conner, has coordinated the games and tournaments, sponsored bridge lessons, and planned this year's Christmas dance.

Committee Four sponsored an open Forum which began recently in the den. The purpose of the Forum was to let students voice legitimate criticisms and complaints.

Active members of Committee Four include Michael Madden, Janice Ellis, Lorna Stevens, Jon McAvoy, David Tarwater, Brian Doty, Stan Swan, Mary McClanahan, Jon Hinkle, and Phyllis Fariell. Additional participating members are Emily Wormsley, Vincent Vaccaro, Barb McAvoy, Jackie Keepers, Suzanne Hunt, Phyllis Hardy, Jackie Lionberger, and Vic Jenkins.

"Some events arranged by Committee Four didn't go exactly according to plans, but the members did work hard and sponsored relatively successful programs," Miss Halbert stated in answer to questions concerning the committee's success.

Vanguard Theatre to Present Williams' 'Glass Menagerie'

"The Glass Menagerie," a Tennessee Williams drama in three acts, will be presented in the Charles Johnson Theater at 8 p. m. Tuesday.

Missouri Vanguard Theater, which will present the drama, represents a new approach in the field of touring repertory theater groups.

One of the company, Miss Carol Pfander, has a special interest in this area, as her family came from Burlington Junction, and her grandmother and aunts still live there. Serving as tour co-ordinator as well as actress, Miss Pfander was in Maryville last fall on her trip around the state setting up appearance dates for Vanguard.

In addition to the evening performance, a school assembly will be presented at Washington Junior High School at 1:15 p. m.

The evening performance will be open to the public. The Missouri Council on the Arts is the sponsoring organization for the play performances.

THE STROLLER

As the summer season approaches and the trees and flowers begin to bud, the Stroller once again reflects that this is Leap Year.

For now, however, no warning is offered. It seems several men on campus are enjoying this tradition even more than their female pursuers.

Constant rains have filled the sidewalks of MSC with worms — just right for those who might like to try their hand at fishing in the college pond.

Others who view the downpours resolutely offer the comment, "We'll just wait 'til the rains bring the fish, too!"

With only four weeks of the spring semester remaining, the Stroller wonders what plans MSC students have for the summer.

He also does some wishful thinking; wouldn't it be nice to end the session just right with a declaration that no finals will be given?

To summer students, the Stroller wishes a little sympathy and a lot of enjoyable, educational days.

The recent Ugly Man Contest did a great deal to improve campus morale. The sight of candidates in Tarzan suits and hillbilly clothes was just the therapy needed for "tired brains."

Some students noted, however, that not all the participants lived up to their "ugly" name. In fact, one Hudson Hall coed eagerly suggested that she would be glad to drive their candidate around on the front of her motorcycle "for publicity."

Overheard . . . or It's - that-time - of - the - year - department.

"That's all right, I can always rally at the final."

"I guess I can cut this class today — he allows three cuts, and I've only taken two so far."

"Hey, will they still cash in text book cards? I just found mine — under the bed."

"The only thing sure about this weather is that — it won't be the same tomorrow."

"I feel like I've spent the best years of my life in this place."

"What we really need is a car."

"I encourage any students who need help — to come in now, but not all in a rush before finals."

"This summer? Nothing but — relax."

"What are you going to write about? A minor poet? They're all minor to me."

"No, I don't want to go — if it costs any money."

"Yeah, I missed class, but I had a very legitimate reason — I was practically dying."

"Well, if I get an 'A' on the final . . . I won't have any trouble bringing my grade up to a 'D'."

"Read the sunbathing rules — they're funny."

"What are you doin' tonight?" "I dunno, what are you doin'?"

Happiness is finally making up the hour lost when the change was made to daylight saving time last weekend.

Faculty Briefs

Iowa Landscape, a print by James A. Broderick, instructor of printmaking at MSC, has been selected for exhibition at the Tenth Annual National Exhibition of Prints and Drawings.

The print was selected by Harold Joachim, a member of the staff at the Art Institute of Chicago.

The exhibition, which draws entries from all parts of the nation will be shown at the Oklahoma Art Center in Oklahoma City from April 20 until May 19.

Dr. John L. Smay, chairman of the Division of Fine Arts and the music department; Mr. Byron Mitchell, music instructor and Tower Choir director, and Mr. Gilbert Whitney, assistant professor of music, traveled to Bellevue, Neb., Apr. 19, to serve as judges for the District Music Contest.

It's Time To Duck

Delta Zetas and Tekes took turns keeping Mr. Ronald Ferris company at the Delta Zeta water balloon puncturing-flour throwing stand during the Ugly Man Carnival. Here Linda Hon sits with him in the paste strewn environment.

Coeds Seek Jobs as 'Flagmen'

If Colorado can hire pretty coeds as "flagmen" at highway construction sites, why not Missouri?

This is the question which intrigued Karen Sundgren and Alberta Uehling, roommates at Franken Hall, as they pondered over summer jobs.

En route home from Teton National Park last summer, Karen observed girls handling the traffic detail for highway work crews in Colorado. Clad in summer shorts, they were effectively bringing traffic to a halt.

The MSC students have applied to the Missouri Highway Department for jobs as "flagmen," but have not as yet had any job offers.

Could it be that Missouri is not ready for this innovation?

Phi Sigmas to Hold Annual Orchid Ball

Phi Sigma Epsilon members and their guests will attend the fraternity's annual spring dance, the Orchid Ball, Saturday in the Union Ballroom.

The theme for the ball is "Playboy After Hours," according to Jim Ward, president. The ball will last from 9 to 12 p. m.

Area Band to Feature E. Moss Composition

The Park Hill Symphonic Band will perform South American Suite by Mr. Earle Moss, MSC music instructor, May 7.

Mr. Moss will conduct the band in his own composition at this concert. The suite is in three movements: rumba, beguine and fandango. Each movement stresses the charm of a particular Latin dance form.

Mr. Moss' work was chosen for performance at the College Band Directors' National Association in 1958 and has since been performed by bands at the University of Washington, State University of Iowa, University of Wichita and high school bands. The MSC Concert Band performed the work in 1960.

The director of the Park Hill band is William Mack. Kenneth Greiner, an MSC student, is student teaching at Park Hill High School in instrumental music this semester.

BSU Delegates Attend Assembly

Members of the Baptist Student Union and adviser, the Rev. Rex Henderson, attended the annual leadership training conference last weekend at Windermere Baptist Assembly on the Lake of the Ozarks.

The 363 students representing Missouri colleges, elected Dr. Ronald Moss, mathematics instructor at MSC, faculty adviser. Messages reflecting on the theme, "Concerned in Action," were given by Larry Allison and Nathan Porter, and Cape Girardeau students presented a musical interpretation of the gospel, entitled "Good News." At student and individual conference meetings, ideas concerning the functions of BSU were shared.

Those attending from MSC were Dick Stephens, Linda Wolf, Chet Myrick, Sue Crook, Sarah King, Ethel Bowman, Lola Auxier, Mary Lumm, Wayne Kline, Owen Robbins, Sharon Estep, Kathi McClintic, Robert Harmon, Keith Harmon, Carol Messner, June LaBorde, Dorothy Cook, Mary Williams, and Jayla Washburn. Mrs. Rex Henderson accompanied the group.

IMB Gets Equipment For Airing Program

The Instructional Materials Bureau has recently received a large amount of equipment and more is expected in the near future, according to Mr. Luke L. Boone, director.

Included in the shipments which were purchased through the library funds are numerous television monitors, cameras, and video tape recorders. They will be used for instructional purposes. Film strip projectors, overhead projectors, office furniture, and a sophisticated film inspector that automatically inspects and cleans 16-mm film at a high rate of speed have also arrived.

Mr. Boone stated that more materials, including motion picture projectors and additional office furniture, are expected soon.

Rules for All

Editor's Note: The following article is a reprint of an article that appeared on the editorial page of the Columbia Missourian. The story concerns a speech given by Governor Warren E. Hearnes recently at Lincoln University. We felt it contained timely interest for the students and faculty of MSC. With the Governor's permission, it appears below.

Gov. Warren Hearnes has taken a decisive stand on a "non-issue" which potentially affects a large percentage of Columbia's residents, be they temporary or permanent.

The governor spoke recently at Lincoln University, Jefferson City, where a number of disturbances occurred last year. Lincoln, formerly all-Negro, now has a sizeable percentage of white students.

Governor Hearnes stated: "I don't think the state has a duty to send to college those people who will not follow the rules. This, to me, is a very simple and clear-cut matter. If a student seeks admission to a college or university, then by virtue of his application he agreed to abide by the procedures which regulate that institution. This is a basic principle which applies to other facets of our lives and I see no reason why it should not apply to students. . .

"Any institution — private or public, educational or industrial — must have rules and procedures to continue in operation. It is quite acceptable to seek a change in those rules through a calm and rational expression of majority opinion. It is an entirely different matter to willfully violate those rules under the guise that they are infringing upon your individual rights."

Students and dissenters are not any more exempt than any other special group from behaving lawfully. Those who feel an institution is going too far in regulating their lives and will not change in support of their views have the option to leave the institution.

An individual who does not recognize that rules, though imperfect, are necessary to serve the largest possible numbers of people is not furthering individual rights, but only narrow personal interests.

Council Requests Ideas For Interesting Events

"We need suggestions for new and different entertainment for the coming summer and the 1968-'69 year," stated Mr. Robert Dickey, Union Program Council director.

In arranging the programs for the ensuing semesters, the Union Board will accept any usable suggestions. The ideas can concern dance themes, musical groups, dance troupes, games and sports events, den movies and den dances, or existing events.

The ideas should be placed in the suggestion box in the Union or given to any Union Board member.

Students Asked To Pre-Register Next Term Cars

All students planning to drive cars on campus either this summer or next fall are reminded to pre-register the car to insure desired parking area.

The scheduled dates of the registration are as follows: Seniors next fall — May 1-7; Juniors next fall — May 8-14; sophomores next fall — May 15-21, and other students — May 22-31.

The registration will be held in the Administration Building, Room 119, from 8 a. m.-4:30 p. m. Monday — Friday, and 8:30 a. m. — noon Saturday.

The fees are $.50 for off-campus, $.50 for summer session on campus, and $10 for fall session on campus.

The Ugly Man...

Proud Symbol of Service

When spring comes to the MSC campus, one of the most important activities which gives the students a chance for fun and provides an opportunity to help others attend MSC is the Ugly Man Contest. Hard work the contest may be, but most students agree that it is well worth the efforts needed to stage it.

Perhaps the hardest workers of all the participants are the sponsors of UMOG, the Alpha Phi Omega national men's service fraternity. For each of the past two years, the Ugly Man contest has earned over $2,000 for the student loan fund, making a total of over $20,000 when matched by National Defense Education Loan funds.

This work is only part of the many services rendered to MSC by the Beta Upsilon chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, the largest men's fraternity in the nation. It includes over 300 APO chapters across the United States. The primary APO objective is service—service by members to their nation, their community, their college, and their chapter.

Beta Upsilon chapter, founded in 1939 by Mr. H. R. Dieterich, Mr. Myrl Long, and Dr. J. W. Jones, now president emeritus has a long history of aid to the MSC campus. Among its other past and current projects, the APO's include sponsoring concession stands at MSC football and basketball games; handling coat checks for college dances; clearing Sweetheart Lake of muck and weeds; assisting the Union Board with its projects; serving banquets under the direction of Mr. Glen Vogt, food service director.

The members also conduct campus tours and plant trees over the college grounds in cooperation with Gamma Sigma Sigma women's service sorority; collect food for needy Maryville families at Thanksgiving; campaign for a cleaner, neater campus; help the handicapped in traveling about the campus, and initiated the ride board for the Student Union.

Money earned from such projects is spent in service: KDLX radio owes its beginnings in part to the financial contribution of the APO's in 1960; the campus map and entrance sign along the college drive are gifts to the college from Alpha Phi Omega. Other funds go to support institutions such as Boys' Town, Camp Rainbow, and Butterfield Boys' Ranch, all of which are for homeless boys.

When the time comes to select next year's ugliest man on campus, students should remember that he stands not for a distorted idea but as a proud symbol of help given so that students may continue their education or help given, in generous measure, by Alpha Phi Omega.

Final Exams May 24-29

Final examination week for the second semester will be May 24-29, with Saturday included as a test day.

The first examination will begin at 7:30 a. m. Friday, May 24. The last test is scheduled for 7 p. m. Wednesday, May 29. The college will officially recess at 7:30 a. m. Thursday, May 30.

A final examination should be given in all classes according to the official time schedule, which will appear in the Missourian on May 10. Instructors are not at liberty to change examination periods, excuse students, or permit some to take examinations early and others late, according to a faculty bulletin from the office of the Dean of Administration.

Instructors may use their own judgment as to whether they will require the writing of a final examination by persons completing degree requirements at this time.

Evening and Saturday class examinations will be held during examination week at the regular hours of meeting.

—A Questioner

Readers' Opinions

Rules Are for Personnel, Too

Rules are rules, and they are made for instructors and other staff members as well as for students. There appears to be some of the groups on this campus, however, who forget about rules — especially when it comes to parking their cars in the correct areas.

Why do some people have the privilege of parking in front of Hudson and Perrin Halls for one or more hours at a time without receiving a ticket? By the way, if they do receive tickets, why don't staff members have to pay for their violations — and not just get warned for their illegal parking?

The parking area in front of Hudson and Perrin Halls is not the only place where some staff members violate the parking rules. In Lot No. 1 (behind the Administration Building) there are staff cars frequently found in the student area.

Why then isn't it permissible for students to park in staff areas of Lot No. 1 without receiving a parking ticket? To add to the irony, it was noted recently that a campus patrolman simply by-passed cars with staff stickers when they were parked on the students' side of the lot.

Parking close to the place of one's classes is nice, but why should staff members be able to park illegally without getting a ticket?

Do Women Get Dress Breaks?

This question has been in my mind since the women's dress rules were changed for both the cafeteria and the library. It seems to me that the women are getting more breaks concerning dress rules than the men.

This may sound trite to some people, but to many it has important rank. It is discouraging to return to your room, slip into something more comfortable to relax or study, and then have to change clothes in order to be accepted in the cafeteria.

The new rule for women is in effect "an outfit — a matched outfit." It might consist of a blouse and shorts that go well together, or it might be a true matched outfit. If the administration is going that far about dress regulations, it might as well include cut-offs and sweat-shirts. After all, we could certainly get a pair of shorts and a sweat-shirt to match, couldn't we?

Saturday a School Policies Seminar will be held in the Union. The Missouri State Council on Higher Education will convene here Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday.

Thursday the Kiwanis Club of St. Joseph will be here to tour the campus.

Schottel Holds Cookout For Gridiron Squad

Coach Ivan Schottel held a cookout for his football team Apr. 23, at Donaldson Lake, west of Maryville.

Dan Troshynski won the fishing contest, which was judged by Tim O'Rourke; however, the size of the fish could not be determined because of its smallness.

"The boys ate me out of house and home," Coach Schottel reported with a chuckle.

Maiorano Shoots Par; 'Cat Record to 7-3

The MSC golf team, led by Larry Maiorano and Jim Williams, halted its losing skein at three with an impressive quadrangular victory Friday at the Maryville Country Club.

In raising their record to 7-3, the 'Cats could do no wrong in downing Central Missouri State, 13½ - 4½, Peru, Neb., 13½-4½, and Creston, Iowa, Junior College, 11-7.

Maiorano captured medalist honors by covering the course in 72 strokes, par, and Williams finished with a three-over-par 75. Of the six 'Cats competing, five recorded scores in the 70's.

William Jewell avenged an earlier defeat at the hands of the Maryville squad by taking the Apr. 22 rematch at Maryville, 6-12. The only victors for the home team were Maiorano, 2-1 and Chuck Wurst 2-1.

Yesterday, the golf team traveled to Warrensburg for a match with the Mules and tomorrow they will host Graceland in a rematch, the initial outing going to the 'Cats, 13-5.

The remaining slate includes meeting the Rockhurst Hawks, May 7 in Kansas City and the season finale, the MIAA conference meet, May 9-11.

Bearcat Netters Set Sights On MIAA Conference Title

The Bearcat netters met William Jewell Tuesday, after the match with Graceland College was rained out Monday.

In singles, Gardner, Schilling, Varcholla, and Manhart led the team with 6-2 records each. Their positions are No. 3, No. 2, No. 4, and No. 6, respectively. John Braden, Red Oak junior, fills the new No. 7 position and participates in doubles only.

"The team is stronger than it was last year in all six positions," declared Robert Gregory, MSC tennis coach. Mr. Gregory also stated that the team is playing well, but with some mistakes.

Coach Gregory added that the main objective for the team is the MIAA conference tournament to be held May 10-11 at Central Missouri State, Warrensburg. He also stated that Kirksville and Springfield are the teams to beat in conference play.

The next four scheduled meets are Parsons College, here, today; CMS, here, Saturday; Kansas University, there, Monday, and Emporia, there, Tuesday.

Coeds' Team Ends Basketball Season With 3-1 Record

With only four practices to their credit, MSC coeds finished their basketball season with a 3-1 record and a second place trophy from the Tarkio Tournament.

In the first game here against Graceland the MSC team scored a 54-38 victory, led by the 26 points of Sandra Butler, player-coach of the team.

Accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Walker, physical education instructor, the team traveled to Tarkio to play three games in an area tournament. In the first round of action Peru went down 50-21 to the MSC women. They went on to defeat the host team 37-32 but were defeated 53-35 by John F. Kennedy entrants in the final bracket.

MSC players scoring in double figures during the season were Sandra Butler, Ronda Ridnour, and Marty Keller. Other members of the team were Mary Elsberry, Ellen Madden, and Chris Morris. Substitutes were Jo Ellen Atkins, Rosamond Carr, Pat Nold, and Ann Wilson.
